BIVAS CHAUDHURI

Nature and experience of East Iceland

1.9. - 16.9.

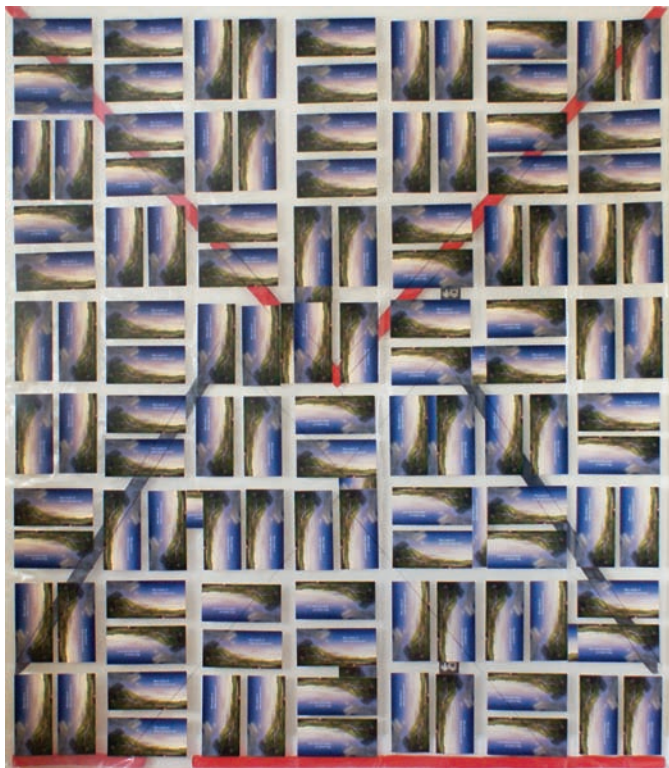

BIVAS CHAUDHURI er fæddur á Indlandi en flutti til Bandaríkjanna á 8. áratugnum. Hann lauk meistaranámi í myndlist frá Brooklyn College í New York og hefur búið og starfað sem listamaður í Brooklyn NY síðustu áratugi. Verk hans hafa verið sýnd víða um heim og hann hefur dvalið í gestaíbúðum allt frá Noregi til Zambíu.

"I graduated from an Indian government college of [art] and craft, where I had majored in Western Painting. I learned how to draw and paint from nature and life, with all kinds of media. Now, when I make compositions, that experience and knowledge works as a reference in my subconscious mind. Humans stand between an immense cosmos and an unfathomable universe within. The human mind is nature's greatest resource. It is intelligence and heart combined, and it is capable of deep vision. The artist's mind creates in a continuous effort to see imagery. When successful, the created image links his personal life and the nature of things. Competition and ambition does not drive me to paint. Rather, it is human existence and [its] innate urge to create. Through the creative process, the self can attain that which surpasses pleasure."
